

Source-to-publish content planner

Move 1 trusted source into a checked main piece, channel versions and a human publish decision.

Keep 1 source open from brief to publish

Complete the planner in order. Build the main piece before versions for other channels.

AI may prepare drafts. A person checks the source, rights, point of view and final publish decision.

1. SOURCE, DATE AND RIGHTS

Record the source, location, date and proof that you may use or quote it.

2. READER AND CHANGE

Name the reader and what they should understand, decide or do next.

3. FACTS AND EXAMPLES WITH SOURCE LOCATIONS

Keep only useful facts, examples or quotes. Add the page, time or link for each.

4. POINT OF VIEW

Write the judgment, lesson or challenge that you add beyond the source.

5. MAIN PIECE BRIEF

Set the format, title or hook, key points, order, length, next action and claims to avoid.

6. VERSIONS FOR OTHER CHANNELS

For each channel, set the opening, length, format and link. Name what changes and stays true.

Source-to-publish content planner

Move 1 trusted source into a checked main piece, channel versions and a human publish decision.

7. VOICE AND VISUAL REFERENCES

Add allowed examples for voice, pace, visual standard or editing direction. Do not copy them.

8. FACTS, RIGHTS AND LINKS CHECK

Reopen every source. Check facts, quotes, rights, links, claims and the next action.

9. NAMED APPROVER

Name who decides Publish or Stop for the main piece and every channel version.

10. FINAL URLS AND WHAT READERS SAY NEXT

Record each live URL, 1 useful reader question or response and what it changes next.

SHIFT & LEAD WORKSHOP WORKED EXAMPLE

Source: workshop transcript with names removed and approved slides. Reader change: managers can choose the 1st task to automate.

Point of view: start with repeatable work that has a clear result and a human check. Main piece: guide. Versions: LinkedIn post and email.

Do not invent client results. Fatiha approves all 3 pieces. Next signal: the question readers ask most after publishing.
