

The useful prompt brief

Give AI the job, evidence and finish line before you ask it to write.

1 Fill the brief

Use facts you can approve. Leave out anything the AI should not see.

GOAL / WHAT MUST CHANGE

AUDIENCE / WHO WILL USE IT

CONTEXT / WHAT THE AI NEEDS TO COMPLETE THE TASK

APPROVED SOURCE / WHAT IT MAY USE

LIMITS / WHAT IT MUST NOT CLAIM OR DO

OUTPUT FORMAT / EXACT SHAPE AND LENGTH

EXAMPLE / A RESULT OR STYLE TO FOLLOW

2 Assemble the request

Put the brief in this order. Clear evidence beats clever wording.

PROMPT ORDER

Complete this request using the brief below.

Goal: [goal] Audience: [audience]

Context: [context]

Use only: [approved source]

Do not: [limits]

Return: [output format] Match: [example]

WORKED EXAMPLE / SHIFT & LEAD FOLLOW-UP

Goal: Help the reader open and use the guide.

Audience: A reader who requested the 10 AI words guide.

Context: A reader did not open the 10 AI words guide email.

Source: Use only the approved guide and original email.

Limits: 90 words. Do not invent results or add pressure.

Format: Write 3 distinct subject lines and 1 follow-up email.

Example: Direct, calm and specific. No hype.

4 / REVIEW BEFORE YOU USE THE RESULT

☐ It answers the goal.

☐ It fits the audience.

☐ Claims trace to the source.

☐ It respects every limit.

☐ It follows the requested format.

☐ A person approves before use.

If a claim cannot be traced to the source, remove it or verify it before use.
